Added extras
Please encourage your child to complete as many of the activities from the menu. However, these need to be paced to ensure children do not rush their learning. Homework is to be recorded in their homework books as provided. However, if your child wishes to complete their learning through other means e.g. use of PowerPoint, Word, drawings or models then please save these items and upon return we will ask for them to be sent into school. We will then celebrate their learning together as a class.

Read it	Research it	Write it
• Look at information books or online sources about Early Islamic Civilisation and the human body. • Read your school books. • Read magazines, recipes, annuals or anything else that you enjoy.	• Find out about Early Islamic Civilisation and the human circulatory system. • Perhaps you could annotate a map to show how Early Islamic Civilisation spread throughout the Middle East. • List the key vocabulary and definitions linked to the circulatory system. • Could you sketch pictures of the human heart and label its parts?	• Write your own story about whatever interests you. • Choose a genre, character and setting for your story. • Use description effectively within your story. • Share it with somebody at home. • Design a front cover and a blurb for your story. • Don't forget to join your handwriting.
Practise it	Draw it	E-learn it
• Practise using maths and grammar vocabulary using the knowledge organisers. • Practise joined handwriting (if this is something you are working on)	• Can you take inspiration from Islamic patterns to create your own piece of art work? • Choose a famous artist and create your own piece of work using their art as inspiration.	• Log on to TT rock Stars and practise your times tables. • https://www.bbc.co.uk/bitesize/primary • https://www.spellingshed.com/en-gb • https://myminimaths.co.uk/ • https://www.topmarks.co.uk/ • Check your class page for other useful websites.
Share it	Say it	Learn it
• Do you have a hidden talent or a favourite hobby? • How can you share this with your friends? • Can you create a video of you completing your Karate moves, dance moves, poetry to share when we are back at school?	• Prepare a 5-minute talk for your return to school on a topic of your choice e.g. a hobby, favourite holiday location, news item, animal etc. • You could create a PowerPoint / poster / information booklet /drawings	• Can you teach yourself a new skill? • Is there something that you have always wanted to be able to do, but find really tricky?
